Dear Shepherd, Thanks for reading my email. I do hope that there will be serious action taken regarding this Shepherd because I understand that this is not the first time. He cannot be preaching on Sundays while sleeping with one woman in the Church and sleeping with me at the same time, along with one legal wife in France and two culture wives living in his home in Nigeria. All these things just came to my attention. If he is not dealt with then I will have no choice than to take my story to the media.

Thanks, Margret.

Hello Elders,

This is a copy of one of the many emails that I had send to shepherd, which he denied everything.

Hello Shepherd,

I would like you to take the time to read this letter very carefully. Please realize and believe that this is not to condemn you or judge you in anyway.

I want you to really think about the things that I will be saying in this letter. I want you to allow it to sink into the depths of your soul, and find the freedom that this offers you to live your life the way you choose... I know you are not perfect. I know that you will do things that will hurt me and have done things that have hurt me, I don't think you want to be intentionally thoughtless and uncaring, I don't want you to be afraid of loving all the women in your life. Because in the end, it is all about and what make you feel like the man...

As I was wandering about last night, I got thinking about the letters I have written to you. In addition, it occurred to me that it would be awesome. If you were a different kind of man instead of womanizers, After all, I have put a lot of time into thinking about what I would like you to be like. In addition, if only you thing about my feelings and what make me who I am. Instead of your own life, Unfortunately, I cannot change you nor do I want to change you, are not the kind of man that can be faithful to one woman... However, it seems appropriate to me to take this time to write you not about what I hope to find in you, but what I can promise you will find in me. After all, it is only fair.

The first thing that I can promise you is fidelity, which you could never promise anyone or me. I believe in commitments. I believe they are the center of any healthy love relationship. I am not one that is going to fly the first time there is a small hiccup in a relationship. Nor am I the kind to be on the lookout for the "bigger better deal." When I know that I am with someone, I fully intend to stay with.

There are few (if any) obstacles that two dedicated people cannot overcome one way or another, and I am ready to do my part to find the way to overcome every obstacle except infidelity.

I have to admit, I was a bit disappointed today. Up until last night, I thought you were different and all the rumors were false. However, based on circumstances and conversations I have believed them to be true.

NOW regarding Nigeria, I had no idea until December that there was a wife especially two. I had no idea regardless of the circumstance why you got married that you were going to Nigeria and sleeping with two other women returning to France to sleep with your wife. Returning to Canada to sleep with another woman.

First, I think you have those women in Nigeria in bondage and what you call LOVE is NO LOVE at all. It is all about control and selfishness. You do not love anyone but your self and only love with (one part of your BODY). I am sure deep down if these women get the chance to be free to find some one else, they would take it.

REGARDING Meredith let me point out all the facts to you that prove that you two have strong feelings for each other, and had an intimate relationship or is having one. They will be listed as I remember them to be.

(1) This one I cannot forget-I was in your office the door was lock, she knock on the door and without a pause tried to enter, found out that it was lock, turn around in anger. You should have seen the scared look on your face. You ran after her tried to explain. All I could see is the dirty look that she was giving you. In the WESTERN WORLD that is the kind of look that a woman give her man if she caught him flirting or cheating, but not usually in the church. They show respect.

(2)-Why would a single Pastor give a single woman member his key to his apartment to deliver furniture unless she has been there before, and why would the single woman suggest to the delivery person that YOU BOTH would like to cover the furniture, not the members? Why would he not ask her to stay at the church until he return?

(3)-Why would a single Pastor drive a single woman member to the airport and pick her up? In addition, why would she lie to others that her son would be taking her and picking her up?

(4)-Why would a single Pastor and the same single woman member go to pick up a young man at the airport and what impression did they gave that young man for him to loose respect for him. Even to the fact that when I asked someone to pick up the young man to take to the church he agreed until he found out the last minute that it was that woman coming to pick him up that he changes his mind from going.

(5)-Why would a single Pastor said in front of the members that he has favorite and so did Jesus, so they should try to get along.

(6) Why would a single woman member call a single Pastor and whisper in his ear in front of everyone?

(7) why would the same single woman wanted to have her 6 year old daughter birthday party with the single Pastor of the church and were upset when others did not agree.

(8) Why would a single Pastor curse everyone that say anything about that same single woman member without finding if the things were true.

(9)-Why does the single Pastor encourage gossip from this single woman and act upon it and treat the person who the gossip was about poorly.

(10)- Why is this single woman never wrong in the eyes of this single Pastor, even though majority of the congregation feel the same way about this single woman.

(11)- Why when this single woman and another single woman were at each other throat the single, Pastor blamed the other woman even though he knew that they were fighting over him.

(12) Why when a visitor of the church was upset about things, she did not understand and another member asked the PASTOR to go down stairs and talk to this visitor HE REFUSES because the single woman was downstairs, why was he afraid to talk to the woman in front of this same single WOMAN. Was that not his role as a PASTOR?

If they were not having an intimate relationship why all the above and why are the people doubtful of them. I am quite sure if they know all the above facts they would be convince that there is something happening. Even a dead DONKEY would agree.

I personally remember one Sunday morning I was going over to the store to get change; you came out and were talking to me. She was about to turn into the drive way and once she saw it was me you were talking to, she made a U turn and left. When you saw that it was she, you stop paying attention to me and follow the van until it was out of sight. I also remember before we started to be together I was in your office talking to you. The phone rang I could hear her voice on the other end. You said to here you are back, and then say you will be right there. You then got up and say to me you have to go and see someone, lock up and left. You almost throw me out of your office. I also remember you coming here on the behalf of the children and was in a hurry to go, and then she calls you twice. You started to get upset with me because I was not moving fast enough for you. I got upset close the computer you were so happy you ran out of the house so fast.

Shepherd I am so sorry that I had started to have feelings for you, now I will have to try to bury those feelings. Some of the things that hurt are you never admitting to the truth. Instead, you get upset and play the victim. How can I trust you when you cannot even admit when you are wrong but instead try to justify it and blame others? You complain about the WESTERN world style of living, you would like to bring your life style here because you think that you are higher and bigger than everyone else is and all your ways are better,

You do not even care about your character because you feel so sure of yourself. Shepherd it does matter what people say about you. Your reputation should be very important to you.

If you want to be with Meredith then, asked the congregation to forget about her pass. Let her have her daughter take the DNA test to clear up the doubt in the members mind. If she is sure then she should not be afraid to do so. Then acknowledge her to the members. As you say, we all have a past and make mistakes.

Another thing about you, you are always talking about age. Is that the only thing you can used to have a conversation? Jeff was born in 1961 and I have never heard him talk about age once except when I told him that one of the reasons I did not want to marry him was because of his age. Then he calls his mom and complained to her about it.

Another thing I think that you were very rude, to tell me that you cannot see the big deal about sex, and it is not if I was a virgin. As a Pastor, you tell this to anyone and see what he or she would think of you. Is that the example you are setting for the young people. Do you not have any respect for your body, that you will have SEX with everyone? I watched you whenever you see any new woman come into the church, your eyes just open WIDE and you are ready to dance and flirt.

Because of your ways I stop coming to the Church now because of you I might end up in a relationship that I do not want with this guy that I had just meet. You really shatter my moral and trust in men.

Please let me slip in at this moment with one significant truth: You are still valuable the "you" inside your skin who has your personality and your appearance. No matter what finally let you to do the things you do and live, the life you live. I only have one good in mind is to encourage; you to live a life so other can respect you behind your back. Your attitude should be the same of that of Christ Jesus. Let your life reflect the WHITE garment that you wear.

I thank the Lord who has given me strength not to hate you but hate your ways. YOU have hurt me and have disappointed me. I did not need this I was dealing with one hurt and you have inflicted another on me. I am not Meredith who can settle for left over.

You have hurt me so deeply that if you were the reason and motive for me helping the boys, I would have dropped everything. However, I thank God that you are not. I really love those boys and will not let you stand in the way of me helping them. When God help them to come you and Meredith can have them if so choose.
